THE NEWS IN BRIEF

Congress convened Monday. Cannon was reelected Speaker of the House.

Some unknown person hurled a mason's plumb bob through one of the windows of President Roosevelt's special train Saturday evening, as it was passing through North Philadelphia.

Eighteen persons were killed Saturday by a mine explosion near Salt Lak, Utah.

A woman 75 years old and a boy 9 years old are in Chester jail awaiting trial for murder.

The monument erected in Columbia to the late N. G. Gonzales will be unveiled next Tuesday.

Nine unknown men were burned to death in a river boat near Mobile last Friday.

The United States Supreme court decided Monday that the South Carolina dispensaries must pay revenue license just as is done by regular liquor saloons.

Mr. D. B. Lumpkin, of Rocky Mount, lost six bales of cotton by an accidental fire a few days ago.

The executive committee of the Southern Baptist Convention has fixed Chattanooga, Tenn., as the place and May as the time for the next meeting of that Convention.

Taxes are coming in rapidly to the state treasurer, indicating that the year has been a prosperous one with the people of South Carolina. So far about $95,000 has been received against about $64,000 last year.—Columbia Record.

The recent fire in York county, the burning of the stables of Glenn & Allison, was more disastrous than first reported. Six mules, one horse, forty one head of cattle, twenty-eight hogs, seven hundred bushels of corn, large lot of hay etc. were burned.

Municipal Ticket.

At the mass meeting held last night the following ticket was nominated to be voted for at the municipal election next Tuesday:

For Mayor: R. E. Wylie.
Aldermen: A. J. Clark, T. S. Carter, J. J. Blackmon, T. J. Strait, W. B. Plyer, B. Y. Funderburk.

The famous state house case, in which the court in Columbia was engaged about two weeks in hearing, resulted Wednesday in a mistrial.

Mrs Sam Kell left Tuesday for Lancaster to visit parents.—Blacksburg Chronicle.
